

LEADERSHIP CIRCLE

Facilitator Intake Form

MISSION

Leadership Circle provides executives with an opportunity to build deep relationships with their peers in an intimate and confidential setting. Participants in the program share successes, challenges and build an important set of peer advisors that provide support as they navigate their leadership journey. The experience provides an intimate and confidential setting for participants to share success, challenges, and build capacity. The engagement from their group supports participants as they navigate their leadership journey.

FACILITATOR PROFILE

A facilitator in Leadership Circle typically falls into the following profile:

- Individuals looking to help foster meaningful connections among a group of peers.
- Leaders looking to help carry the momentum of a peer group forward.
- Individuals looking to hold group members accountable for participation and suggest creative opportunities for group connection.
- Individuals who can assist with the coordination of group norms and identify the best possible mode of interaction for the group.

FACILITATOR EXPECTATIONS.

- Provide open, honest, and sincere feedback in group meetings and discussions.
- Respect the confidentiality of the information discussed within the group.
- Commit to respond to all communication from my co-facilitator and participants within 48 hours.
- Miss no more than one meeting per year.
- Lead the creation of shared goals and objectives for the year. Offer suggestions for developing group trust and accountability.
- Facilitators are ultimately responsible for the group's energy, momentum and connection.

GROUP MEETINGS

The Club provides a unified first meeting date, time and location for all Leadership Circle groups. An agenda is provided to the group facilitators and participants for their first meeting, during which time the individual groups will plan for the year ahead and begin to build group trust and accountability.

TYPES OF LEADERSHIP CIRCLE GROUPS

Group meeting agendas and structure are based on the interests of the group, as well as guidance from the groups' co-facilitators. Many groups prefer to use a peer networking approach to their meetings where group members gather and share experiences, challenges and successes in a roundtable format, often becoming a peer "board of advisors" to one another. Other groups may choose to use a more formal mentorship approach where participants gather to discuss and develop skills and competencies by discussing topics during monthly meetings.

FACILITATOR INTAKE FORM

The Leadership Circle Program is an exclusive opportunity for current and future leaders of the Chicago business and civic communities to foster meaningful connections. The program provides a forum for gaining access to the intellectual capital of peers across industry and function. We appreciate your interest and encourage your active participation.
